Paws In Time

Summer break brought a sigh of relief and three months of vacation. For some, it was time to hang out with friends and relax, while others worked long hours. The summer sped by, and once again Mayfield High School opened its doors.

Long awaited weekends rushed by in a flood of concerts, dances, movies and sporting events. Students were out and about, expressing themselves in their own unique ways while having fun.

We continued to watch "The War on Terrorism." Military personnel remained stationed in Iraq and other Middle Eastern countries. On the home front, the economy and unemployment became a persistent problem for many families. Communities pulled together to help each other out during the rough times. Mayfield High School students raised over $10,000 for United Way and students continued to volunteer their time and fundraising efforts for a variety of organizations throughout the year.

While time waited for no one, the students of MHS pawed their way forward in search of success in the classroom, on the field or the court and in service to the community. They proved that their Wildcat spirit was eternal and would withstand the test of time.

A Life in Paws

As the 2003-2004 school year began, students eagerly anticipated the new challenges they would inevitably face. Seniors began to explore the options that the “real world” would offer them. Juniors had the opportunity to attend Prom and improve class rank in their most important year of high school. Sophomores began obtaining their drivers licenses and filling up the parking lot, while freshmen embarked upon their high school careers.

Mayfielders showed support for each other in all aspects of their lives. From a most outgoing crowd at sports events and dances to a more serious group at club meetings and theatrical performances, students lived every moment to it's greatest potential. Students often spent their weekends and days off in movies, concerts, while talking on the phone, chatting on the Internet, and in Instant Messages during the week.

Mayfield students had a love for competition. Senior David Occhionero summed up the spirit in the year 2004. “You support every team no matter how many wins or losses they have or how great or poorly they played. They are your high school team, and you cheer as hard as you can, and never turn your back on them.”

The year was filled with friendships and memories that would follow the students for the rest of their lives. Through sports, concerts, and spending time with friends, the underclassmens stories unfold as the seniors story ends.

A Night on the Town

As autumn rolled around, a certain buzz filled the air. Graduates from years past returned home, girls looked even better than usual, and guys finally practiced daily hygiene. Homecoming in Mayfield arrived at last. From the parade and bonfire, to the after-parties and sleepovers Mayfield students had a jam-packed weekend.

The activities began on Thursday with the traditional parade led by the beautiful sweet sixteen. Then the band electrified the crowd as the bonfire began. The football team tossed the sacrificial Kenston Bomber into the fire. As the fire diminished, the Student Council and many friendly volunteers made their way to the wood gym to decorate for what would be an amazing assembly and dance.

Mr. Gadke kicked off the assembly by announcing the sweet sixteen. The audience waited in suspense to find out who the 2003 court and queen would be. Jackie Schmitt, Melissa Mann, Jen Ranells, and Katie Comella took a second walk down the runway as members of court. Head football coach, Larry Pinto proclaimed Kammeron Hughes Homecoming Queen as the crowd erupted in celebration. Mr. Gadke was asked how he felt with all the display of enthusiasm. He exclaimed, "This being my 20th year of hosting the assembly gave it an extra special meaning for me. So many people put forth so much energy to make this event a special tradition, it's especially exciting when a class adds its special flair and with Kammeron and the entire Sweet Sixteen, the class of 2004 made it memorable."

The football game was a complete success as the Wildcats demolished the Kenston Bombers. They blew out Kenston 28-0, and everyone went home happy.

Of course all of these festivities led up to the Homecoming dance. The theme for the dance was "A Night on the Town" and all the attendees certainly had a great night out. Queen Kammeron Hughes said, "I never had as much fun, as I did that night."

2003 Homecoming

Tropical Nights

From the looks of the gym on a cold Saturday night in February, it was obvious how much hard work and energy the members of Cat's Cabinet put into making the annual Valentine's a warm, tropical experience. From the decorating sessions during winter break, to the all-night decorating session the evening before, everyone donated a great deal of time and energy into making the 47th Valentine's dance, "Tropical Nights," memorable.

The assembly officially kicked off the weekend. Mr. Gadke introduced Cupid's 15, which was voted by Cat's Cabinet members. After a beautiful rendition of "Eternal Flame" by senior Summer Aims, who was accompanied on the piano by senior Steve Chazaro, the student body anxiously awaited to hear the announcement of the court. The court consisted of princesses Jill Grabfelder, Tricia Gomillion, Natalie Maher, and Lindsey Girod. The princes were Nicky Barille, Jon Welle, Bill Markt, and Mike Kerecman.

Seniors Joey Catullo, Peter Liou and Bill Markt sang an original song, "Remember these Times." After receiving a standing ovation, the crowd was ready to watch the crowning of the 2004 Valentine's king and queen. A better representation of the student body could not have been chosen as alumni Lauren Alexander crowned Jennifer Ranells and Sam Schechtman crowned Matt Fadel.

The dance was truly an exotic evening. Students danced the night away and left forgetting that it was a cold night in February.

Amazed by You

On the evening of May 15, 2004, dozens of Mayfield students arrived at La Vera Party Center to have dinner and dance the night away at the Junior-Senior Prom. Excitement and anticipation ran high as the evening continued, and the glamorous gowns and tailored tuxedos added to the mood. The theme of the prom was "Amazed by You," and it truly proved to be an amazing night.

After a delicious dinner and dessert, the introduction of the prom court began. The junior class officers announced the court which consisted of Mike Verdi, Jimmy Verdi, Jonathan Welle, Bill Markt, Mike Kerecman, Melissa Mann, Katie Comella, Amy Lin, Natalie Maher, and Brighty Sullivan. The excitement continued as juniors Laurel and Stephanie Gans crowned Comella and Markt, who were voted Prom Queen and King by the senior class. Comella said, "I was surprised and honored. It was great experience and I had a lot fun." Katie and Bill led everyone to the dance floor to dance to the theme song "Amazed by You." The court and the rest of the students joined them soon after.

After the dance, students headed to Mayfield Middle School for the after prom. The school was transformed in an "Under the Sea" adventure. Junior Cara Olie said, "The decorations were awesome and the school looked incredible." Students enjoyed an abundance of food as well as the opportunity to partake in various activities such as Black Jack, Poker, caricatures and palm readings. There were also many giveaways including DVD players, televisions, and several $250 cash prizes.

As a whole, the evening was simply unforgettable. Junior Megan Vandrak said, "It was a great weekend and definitely a memory I will never forget."

End of Era

To close out their high school careers, seniors arrived at the Palace Theatre on June 5, 2004, to both end one chapter of their lives and begin another.

The graduation ceremony opened with Salutatorian Sherry Liu giving welcoming remarks to the eager graduates and their families. Her greeting was followed by Dr. Price's welcome. Senior Student Class President Melissa Mann then spoke, reminiscing about the last four years, while the Student Class President Brighty Sullivan focused her speech on the exciting and unpredictable future of the graduating class. Valedictorian Ally Brikman also remarked about her experiences in high school, and she spoke briefly about what the future may hold. Principal Loewer then addressed the graduating class with a speech that honored various students and their accomplishments. The ceremonial passing of the gavel signified the official induction of new senior class president, Kacey Zeiser. The blue and silver class colors were added to the gavel and presented to Zeiser.

Finally, the awarding of diplomas began for the class of graduates waiting with baited breath. One by one they walked up, shook hands with Mr. Loewer, and accepted their diplomas. After the presentation of the diplomas had ended, the students were directed to place their tassels on the right side of their caps. For four years they had worked and had refused to give up, and now they had graduated from high school and could embark on endless opportunities in the future.

Time of our Lives

Mayfield High School became a time when familiar faces we had seen in previous years were intermingled with new faces that we got to know. We spent time with people whom we were happy to know and those people whom we wished we could have known better. New friendships began, and with these new relationships, we were given a chance to improve ourselves and the quality of our lives. Becoming a close friend with someone is one of the best gifts life can give us, and high school was an opportunity to gain a companion or mentor. High school helped to frame who we are now and taught us life's important lessons. We learned from our mistakes, remembered what meant the most to us, and achieved our goals in school. Take time to pause and reflect on the 2003-2004 school year and recall some favorite times.

There existed countless memories of Mayfield High School. The Homecoming Dance was unforgettable, and the night could not have been more perfect. Socializing at football games and cheering on players as they defeated their opponents were traditional Friday night events. During the United Way drive, all the seniors were dressed up in their costumes and competed to see which group could raise the most money; the whole school came together for a common cause. All of the classes, sports events, plays, talent shows, and assemblies had their own meanings to each of us, and it was important to remember the time spent with classmates.

We went to school for 188 days, with hundreds of people in the same building, and over time, we became a family. We had our best friends that we spent all of our time with, the people we had the biggest crushes on since we were smiled at in the hall, and even the teachers, whose classes we would not have passed without their unforgettable teaching styles. Mayfield High School became a part of everyone who passed through its doors. We will always have a place in our hearts for the people we met and with whom we grew. These are the faces to remember...

The Final Paws

Open the barn door, kick out the hay.
We were the class that blew Mayfield away.
We lassoed the seniors and began our year.
The class of 2004 was in high gear.
On a mission to conquer the West,
Our Senior Round-up was the best.
We started off with the United Way
Making all the underclassmen pay.
Next was Homecoming with a Night on the Town;
Kammeron Hughes received the crown.
Cat's Cabinet had it's winter formal.
It was anything, but normal.
Senior prom was our very last dance
With our final opportunity for high school romance.
Sports picked up at a rapid pace
Leaving the other schools in disgrace.
We set standards for many teams,
Taking winning to extremes.
Our senior athletes were at their peak
While other rivals remained weak.
With our departments of drama and vocals,
Many seniors astounded the locals.
The Pride of Mayfield and its corp.
Prevented our halftime from being a bore.
Graduation finally came,
And Mr. Walukus said everyone's name.
Well-deserved diplomas were handed to all
With none returning to Mayfield the next fall.
Everything happened way too fast.
We hoped our friendships would always last.
Our Senior Round-up now was done,
Our high school battles fought and won.
Good luck to all, the class of 04!
You cowboys and cowgirls, there is no more!

Class of 2006

In memory of our friend and classmate

Billy Ranells

My younger brother Billy has stood out from my older brother and myself. He went through more than most people go through in a lifetime and never complained. My brother was the strongest person I knew.

At the age of 13, he was diagnosed with cancer. A disease that seems more common everyday. That whole year, instead of playing baseball in the summer time, he was laying in a hospital bed getting chemo treatments and losing his hair. You have to understand, sports, especially football and baseball, were everything to him and he was excellent at both. Each game or practice he had to miss was one more piece of him being pulled away, but he never complained or asked "why me?" He just kept on getting treated. He told my mom that he didn't care what they had to do, just to get all the cancer out of him.

Right away he stood out from everyone. Physically, he had a huge scar on his stomach the shape of a Mercedes symbol. Mentally he stood out because of what he was going through. Kids all around the school looked up to him and admired him because of his amazing strength and spirit. I can remember his very first chemo treatment; he left school early and got home at about 4:30 p.m. It was mid September, football season. He had my mom drop him off at football practice. They only stopped home so he could change. He came home that night and when he was asked how he did/felt at practice he said: "We were doing our running and I had to throw up so I did it in the garbage can and went back to running." When he said that, my first thought was gross, but then I thought 'yea that is something he would do'. And that's how he was every time he got chemo. He did his best not to let it affect his normal life. He still hung out with his friends, went on vacations and did everything a normal teenager would do. It went like that for about a year and a half, and then things took a turn for the worst. The disease was catching up with him and little by little, it was shutting down his body. Although he was weak and couldn't walk, when we tried to help him he shoved us off and said he could do it himself. That's just the type of person he was, never giving up, fighting until the end. That's how he will be remembered.

My definition of a hero is someone who will rise to the challenge no matter how hard it is. Someone who doesn't give up or doesn't stop fighting. Someone who has it so bad, but keeps up a good attitude and spirit. Someone who will do things for others even when they are not feeling good enough to. The classical definition of a hero is I think, modern. Yes people are loyal and courageous, but today people are faced with so much more, they have to be other things in addition to loyal and strong.

Although my brother is gone and in a better place, he will always be remembered. His peers saw him as an inspiration, a hero. They saw him as I did. He was strong, ruthless, a fighter to the end. Because he is gone, I am going to live my life how he did. He left a permanent mark in everyone he met and that alone says he will never be forgotten and will always be remembered.

A Round of "Appaws" for Academics

Analyzing literature . . . creating culinary delights . . . differentiating equations . . . dissecting animals, these continued to be the daily tasks for the Mayfield High School student.

For some, academics was the first priority, while for others it was a chance to explore or focus on a specific interest. Mayfield students were offered a wide variety of electives ranging from film analysis to ceramics to family living. In addition to the traditional program, Mayfield students were offered the best in AP and honors courses as well as foreign languages and vocational classes.

Whatever courses a student took, the high school day was filled with excitement, personal growth and preparation for the future.

For the second consecutive year, the Mayfield City School District earned a perfect score on the state-mandated Report Card. Superintendent Dr. Phillip Price said, "This kind of achievement can only occur when a system's staff is highly skilled, work very hard, and are student centered." With a high reward for academic accomplishment, Mayfield High School continued to strive and achieve for excellence.

A Time To Evolve

The Science department underwent many changes and enhancements. The changes in the science curriculum brought upon both new classes and changes to existing classes. For example, the Earth Science classes for ninth graders had been moved to eighth grade. There was a new honors ninth grade Integrated Science course, along with a regular ninth grade Integrated Science course. Zoology and Biotechnology were new offerings, and the curriculum for the practical and physical sciences were rewritten. "This year was a transition year. We changed the curriculums to better prepare the students for the OGT (Ohio Graduation Test)," said Mr. Ostovic.

"In biotech we studied biology in detail. We went over DNA and further explored new techniques used by biologist." stated junior Serge Britko.

Mr. Ward taught Zoology. Students learned about the intricacies of the animal kingdom. Students also studied the anatomy, physiology and behavior of animals. Senior Lindsey Girod said, "I really enjoyed this course, it was interesting going to the zoo and actually seeing first hand what we studied in class."

"All of our science teachers believed in hands on activities to get our brains motivated to learn. They were enthusiastic and excellent at what they do," said freshman John Fadel.

A Sine of the Times

Who could deny that math was the most educating subject of the day? Our highly appreciated math department strived to educate our student body on this technical art.

Why do so many of our students enjoy working with indefinable functions? Maybe it's because mathematics was needed to succeed in life. Not that everyone will obtain a PhD in analytical mathematics, but most people use the essential skills in every day life whether it is balancing a checkbook or financing a home.

Math is all around us, and allowed amazing feats to be accomplished. Without math the world would be a different place from what we see today.

The mathematics department at Mayfield has an unequivocal devotion to their specialty. As Dan Carlson put it, "Mr. Donoughe was an awesome teacher. Whenever I was down he made me integrate!"

Once again our math department supplied our students with knowledge to expand our horizons. Some of us will use math without even recognizing its' existence. Whether math is used to solve intricate functions or to add grocery prices, math's existence cannot be denied. Do what you want with math, but please don't divide by zero.

The many faces of language

Activities are one thing that both the English and Foreign Language departments have in common. That is, of course, aside from the goal of teaching students to express themselves in any one of several languages.

The actors from the Great Lakes Theater held participatory versions of Romeo and Juliet, Macbeth and Julius Caesar. "It was easier to understand Romeo and Juliet when we were able to both see and participate in the performance by the Great Lakes Theatre Festival actors," said freshman Matthew Shaylor. Seeing the plays acted out, whether live or in a movie helped to clarify the Shakespearean language much better than just reading it in class.

The English department worked hard to improve the processes of writing, vocabulary, and reading to help their students. As Ms. Rutigliano said "It's another opportunity to script your future."

English is used daily and is one of the most important skills for success in college and in the work place. It is always important to continue to study our own language. As Zach Feldman put it "I strived to achieve a Scarlet Letter in Mr. Siedlecki's class."

While students fine tuned their understanding of the English language, many enriched themselves by studying a foreign language as well.

Foreign language was a necessity in the real world, which is why we were grateful that Mayfield offered four languages: Italian, Spanish, French, and German. "Everyone should study a foreign language because it expands your mind and increases your awareness of other cultures," said senior Kirsty McNamara.

Field trips played a great role in educating students in other cultures. French students experienced a once in a lifetime trip to Paris with Mrs. Burich, while Spanish students traveled to exotic Costa Rica. Using their classroom education and applying their gained knowledge, students were able to experience life in a foreign place, something not soon to be forgotten.

"In Italian class we were always doing something interesting and fun. Mrs. Mitra was a great teacher and always challenged us," said senior Jessica Revello.

Diversifying activities in English and Foreign Language served as break to the monotony of straight bookwork, proving that experiencing the curriculum first hand is a great way of learning.

History in the Making

The 2003 - 2004 school year brought many new changes to Mayfield High School, especially in the Social Studies department. In addition to new staff member, Ms. Imel, new classes were added as well. The new changes brought more opportunities for students to explore the world around them.

Students now had the option to take three new elective courses: Geography, Current World Issues and Macroeconomics AP. Geography students honed in on their skills at mapping, interpreting legends and reading scales. The class also discussed environmental problems and solutions. Current World Issues provided a framework for students to study and understand the ongoing political problems in the world. Macroeconomics AP was designed not only to study the economic system but also about banking and monetary policies. Ms. Sherwood who taught both Current World Issues and Macroeconomics said, "Students studied a variety of issues including the 2004 presidential election, terrorism and human rights. Students partook in both formal and informal debate and enjoyed studying something that they could relate to."

Field trips continued to be a great way for students to see first hand what they were studying. The ninth graders went to Washington D.C. and explored the many foundations of U.S. History in addition to monuments and exhibits.

Guest speakers also enhanced the classroom experience. Speakers included World War II and Vietnam veterans, dislocated Native Americans, war nurses, World Trade Center survivors and soldiers in the Iraq conflict. Each speaker brought history to life with the personal stories they shared.

Mr. Leffler stated, "Not only are we preparing students for proficiency and AP testing, but we're also preparing our students to be informed members of society."

Let's Get Physical

The students at Mayfield High School had many opportunities to improve their physical and mental health throughout the school year. The rigorous and well-developed health and physical education programs allowed students to work to their greatest potential, whether through running track, pumping iron or simply enhancing their knowledge of health in general.

In health class, students learned how to cope with stress, how to better relationships with family and friends and how to exercise and eat well. In addition, they learned important facts and skills that could assist them in all aspects of life. These skills included a basic CPR course that helped prepare students for an emergency at any time. Students also learned the importance of making good decisions through videos and real life examples.

For Mayfield High School students, health education went beyond the classroom. In physical education, students played sports such as badminton, swimming, track, basketball, soccer, volleyball and softball. For sports enthusiasts and varsity athletes, different classes, such as Plyometrics and Conditioning, were offered to help them work to their peak physical condition. In addition, Aerobics was offered as an alternative gym class for any girls wishing to participate.

The health program at Mayfield High School was a rigorous one that offered students many opportunities. Although the packets in health class seemed long at times and the laps around the track grew wearisome, in the end the students emerged with a greater understanding of the importance of health in their lives.

Kirsty McNamara

ABOVE: Aerobics was a great alternative for girls who were looking for something different.

In our spare time . . .

In addition to working a rigorous core curriculum at Mayfield High School, students expanded their minds and experimented with different types of classes through the many academic electives offered during the 2003-2004 school year. The electives ranged from various sciences to creative writing opportunities and the fine arts. Students appreciated this deviation from the regular curriculum and worked hard to find their fortes in the electives offered.

The electives appealed to students of all interests. Those who loved science took astronomy or zoology. The very enthusiastic zoology teacher, Mr. Ward, stated "The diversity of life on this planet is astonishing; thus we must study it!" Chefery was another class most seniors looked forward to during their time in high school. Chefery helped teach the prospective chefs many cooking techniques and introduce new ideas for creating original and appetizing meals. "I'm into learning life skills which everyone can use," commented Chefery teacher Mrs. Sulzer. Drama was also a favorite elective among all the Mayfield Players. Students learned and practiced different types of drama including comedy, tragedy, and musicals while enhancing their basic theatrical skills.

All the students at Mayfield High School were able to find electives to suit their unique personalities. The dedicated staff made the classes appealing and this encouraged the students to continue to pursue their interests. Electives added to the basic core curriculum and helped the students remain excited throughout the year.

Kirsty McNamara

Exploring Careers

With competition in the workplace increasing and unemployment rates high, technical knowledge and skills were more important than ever. While Mayfield High School offered students many opportunities within the classrooms, upperclassmen were given the option of joining one of the many Excel TECC programs in the system. Unlike many schools in the area, Mayfield had eighteen strong TECC programs including Cosmetology, Medical Technology, Early Childhood Education, and Horticulture. These programs not only gave students a chance to explore different aspects of various careers, but also allowed students to possibly determine what fields they would explore after high school. Students who participated in the Excel TECC programs continually expressed their enthusiasm about their experiences. Cosmetology student, senior Jessica Mills stated, "We're not magicians, we're beauticians!" in regards to the Cosmetology program.

The 2004 Excel TECC programs consisted of over 720 students. Throughout the year, these students not only gained a better understanding of their selected career field, but many also obtained a better school to work transition. Students who participated in this program definitely had more opportunities than ever before.

Stepping into the Spotlight

It was amazing to see how hard work and dedication can bring a production and people together as one "Steps Into the Spotlight." It was exciting to feel the electricity of people interacting with one another on Mayfield's stage. The Mayfield music and drama departments brought the performers magic to light.

The 2004 musical began with classical music filtering through the auditorium, and we watched an old story unfold. Rumors had it that Oliver (played by sophomore Anne Markt) roamed the school hallways and he ended up on the Mayfield stage telling the audience of his hard and poverty stricken life. Sophomore Kylene Bandelow said, "The story appealed to people of all ages and is a timeless classic."

The drama department put on two performances during the 2003-2004 school. The fall play "The Final Trial of Richard III" had the audience playing an active role in the production. Each night the audience would decide the fate of the main character by determining the outcome of the trial. The spring play, "You Can't Take With You," was comedy involving the typical American family. Sophomore Katie Weber, who played Penny stated, "The audience really responded to the story and I thought by the laughter they were very entertained." First year director, Ms.

Morland quoted Thomas Kelly, "Theater creates an atmosphere in which anything is possible." She continued by stating, "Nothing could me more true about any of the performing arts, which is why we love it and why Mayfield students were so unfailingly devoted to it."

The Mayfield Showchoir, orchestra and crew continued to WOW their audiences with a musical tribute to the legendary Michael Jackson. Dazzling costumes and stage presence kept audiences totally entranced. Even the crew, with their gothic dress, was most entertaining. . . thanks Dave! When asked to summarize the 2003-2004 Showchoir year, Mr. Glosser said, "although at times we had more drama off the stage than on it, the students always came together during the performances."

Music also found its way onto the football field as the Pride of Mayfield marching band along with the flags and catettes continued to entertain during halftime. In addition to the halftime shows, Mayfield held a very successful band bash which featured the areas most talented high school marching bands. Mayfield Concert and Jazz Bands continued to win awards for outstanding performance throughout northeast Ohio.

Mayfield High School performing artists were some of the best in the area and provided much entertainment to the community.

What was the verdict in the fall play, "The Final Trial of Richard III?" Unlike previous theatrical performances on the Mayfield stage, audience members were fully involved as they decided, each night, whether to sentence Richard III, played by Nick Trouw, to eternal condemnation or to clear his name from the accused crimes. Set in eternity after the death of Richard on Bosworth Field, the play was a courtroom drama in which Judge Time, played by Steven Grilly, presided. To defend his name, Richard had his fast talking attorney, Charity, played by Katelyn Smith. Her task was to prove that Richard was not the blackest king in English history.

However, that task proved to be very difficult against the prosecution team of History, played by Erin Schwartz and Rumor, played by Christyna Genovese. The trial ran through witnesses such as Shakespeare and Richard's wife. The object of the play was to present evidence to the audience, who served as the jury and would ultimately decide the end of the play.

Hearts were racing, lights were beaming, and all around the stage pure energy radiated out in the form of song and dance. For Mayfield High School's Show Choir, The Limited Edition, music and dance were not simply artistic expressions, but also provided a way to fulfill their dreams through performing. Show Choir was a group of dancers, singers, and artists. They were the voices of not only song, but also of inspiration and determination.

Many nights the Limited Edition took the stage and energized the entire auditorium. When they went to Cincinnati to compete, their determination was evident and they held their heads high. The Limited Edition members put their hearts into the music and made the audience feel the energy which emanated through the room.

Although they did not win first place, Show Choir members kept their spirits high and stayed true to their ambition of reaching people with their music. The Limited Edition returned to school with determined minds and they continued to work as hard as they could. They showed the true meaning of success by not allowing obstacles to stand in their way.

Being a tight knit group, the Limited Edition also dealt with the pressures of friendships and relationships while maintaining a strong sense of unity on and off stage. The performers of Limited Edition stayed strong as they worked together and refused to let adversity stand in the way of either their friendships or the Show Choir as a whole.

The Show Choir members spent many long nights practicing and performing. More often than not, practices went on for many long hours which were devoted to perfecting technique and tuning their voices. Despite the hours of hard work, Show Choir members did not complain. They understood that in the end, the work was worth it because they had the opportunity to do what they loved every night. They were willing to sacrifice to make their dreams come true. The performers of the Limited Edition devoted not only their bodies and voices to the Show Choir, but also their hearts.

A Night of A“paws”

This winter, students found the Mayfield stage transformed into 19th century London as the curtain rose on the 2004 musical Oliver!, the theatrical adaptation of the Charles Dickens classic about a young English orphan named Oliver Twist. The production provides a heartbreaking historical account of life for the peasant class of 1800's England, while telling a timeless tale of hope amidst unbearable strife and believing in love against all odds.

The show opens in a London workhouse for young orphaned boys, where we meet innocent and promising young Oliver (sophomore Anne Mark) boldly breaking the rules, daring to ask the overwhelmed beadle of the institution, Mr. Bumble (senior Steve Chazaro), and the shrewish Widow Corney (senior Rachael Grilley), for more food. Aghast, Mr. Bumble and Mrs. Corney threaten to beat and torture Oliver before deciding it best to sell him off as a child servant to the impatient Sowerberrys. Oliver manages to escape into the heart of the city, where he is befriended by the Artful Dodger (junior Danielle Sills), who invites Oliver to stick with him and “consider [his] self at home”. Dodger takes Oliver under his wing and introduces him to Fagin (senior Max Koknar), a kindhearted old man who takes in orphaned boys and teaches them to pick pockets for a living. In Fagin's world we meet Nancy (senior Erin Barnes), a vivacious but lonely young woman, and her abusive boyfriend, the murderous criminal Bill Sykes (senior Nick Trouw). Out on his first attempt to pick a pocket, Oliver is caught in the act and whisked away to court by Mr. Brownlow (junior Ryan Dick). A great adventure ensues, and at the end of this equally fun and heart wrenching story, filled with everything from unconditional love and awe-inspiring hope to shocking deceit and villainous murder, we discover that Mr. Brownlow is in fact Oliver's biological grandfather, and presumably both live happily ever after!

The talented cast of Oliver! displayed their brilliance through demanding acting scenes, musical numbers, and dance. Congratulations on a superb weekend of performances to all involved. The impressive production will be challenging to top with next year's show!

"It was incredible to see "The Pride of Mayfield" marching down Main Street at Disney World. In my ten years at Mayfield, it was without a doubt the finest marching and playing our marching band has ever created. The enthusiasm from the band students was amazing and the audience was extremely supportive and excited about our group. I am so proud of our students, their performance as well as their cooperation on the trip shows how important "Pride" is to our family of band students."

Paws at the Rhythm

The Mayfield High School marching band seems to be getting bigger and better every year. For over a decade the marching band continued to be the pride of Mayfield. Under the direction of Mr. Sanford, and assistant directors Mr. Palermo, Mr. Turk and Mr. Brookheart, the members continued to march through sun, rain, sleet and sometimes snow. Always upbeat and always entertaining.

The band started and ended their season in the sun. Band camp in August officially kicked off the season. Although camp was hard work, members still found time to have fun. The band participated in a variety of summer parades in the surrounding communities. The band also played at every football game, traveling all across northeast Ohio. The fall program included selections from the musical group Chicago. The band's rendition of "Saturday in the Park" and "Does anyone know what time it really is?" became fan favorites. The annual Halloween show, which was also the last football game, featured songs such as "Thriller" and "Frankenstein." "What a great way to end the season," senior band president Dan Gans said. "I have had a blast being part of such a well respected and talented marching band."

Mayfield also hosted a band bash featuring The College of Wooster's marching band as well as many of the top area high school bands. "It was wonderful evening, the music was fantastic and it was great watching such talented kids," said Ms. Gasbarrino who attended the event.

As an addition to the band program, Mr. Sanford and Mr. Palermo conducted the Jazz Bands I and II. Both included the most talented members of the Pride of Mayfield. Along with performing at charity events, the groups travelled throughout Ohio and out of state to participate in a variety of competitions. "During past ten years, the jazz bands have won more awards than any other competitive musical program at Mayfield," stated Mr. Sanford.

As their time together drew near its end, the band had its final show at Disney World in Orlando, Florida. For the seniors, it was an experience they will never forget and for the underclassmen, it was one that they cherished as the continued to be a part of the Pride of Mayfield.

Steppin in Time

The 2003-2004 Flag and Catette season can be described as nothing short of incredible.

The season began at tryouts March 2003. The auditions introduced eight new members; giving the flag corps and catettes the largest number of participants in Mayfield history, totaling thirty-two girls.

The real work began during the summer. The girls performed in the 4th of July parade and the Mayfield Heights Home Days parade. In addition, one week of their summer was spent in band camp. Memories and friendships were made almost as often as the numerous flag to head and boot to head injuries. Ouch!

To keep their performance flawless, additional practices were necessary. Band camp was replaced with after-school practices and Wednesday night rehearsals.

Once the school year began, the catettes and flags performed in rain or shine ... or snow at the Friday night football games. They not only performed during the half-time show, but before, during and after the game as well; making sure to keep the audience entertained.

Like other athletes, the girls also ate. They ate before the games at their weekly dinners, after the game at wherever place was still open, but never during the game because the girls just got brand new uniforms! Their one sleeved, sparkled dresses and their knee-high go-go boots enhanced their spectacular routines.

After the football season, the two corps took their show on the road. In November 2003, the girls traveled with the band to perform at Disney World's Main Street Parade in the Magic Kingdom.

None of these performances could have been possible without the leadership of advisor, Mrs. Violante, and the creativity of flag corps captains, Justine Duchon and Tina DiTomaso, and catette captains, Kristi Tritt and Andrea Halco. The captains worked hard to make up interesting and original routines.

In March 2004, the Pride of Mayfield welcomed its newest member, Mrs. Violante's son, Jude Gabriel Violante.

The success of the flag corps and catettes was collaborative. The combined effort of all of the girls and Mrs. Violante helped to make the 2003-2004 season both entertaining and enjoyable.

The Show Must Go On

The Sycamore family's eccentric ways in the spring play "You Can't Take It With You" revolved around doing things they enjoyed. At the time it was considered crazy, but many more events would occur to further this conclusion. Each night the cast did a great job with their performances and in their ability to make the audiences laugh. Furthermore the cast and crew came together, along with director Ms. Morland and assistant director Mr. Paxton, to put on a wonderful, witty production. Recognized for their last performance were seniors Max Koknar, Nick Trouw, Katelyn Smith, Tiffany Payner (also known as Peach), and Pat Schnarrenberger. Senior Katelyn Smith said, "I definitely learned a lot, not only about acting but about myself as well."

After an intense year of drama and learning, the cast, crew and directors successfully produced "You Can't Take It With You." We thank Ms. Morland and Mr. Paxton for accepting all comments and questions and for the good times on the Mayfield stage.

A Night Among the Stars

"What good is sitting alone in your room, come hear the music play, life is a Cabaret old chum, come to the Cabaret." The lyrics to the song from the famous Broadway show "Cabaret" said it all and what a night it was for the Mayfield High School Choral Music Department. Parents, teachers, students friends and family alike, all came together for a night of musical entertainment and refreshments - gourmet desserts!

Set in an intimate, cabaret-type, nightclub atmosphere, the very talented students performed songs of the present-day to yesterday including punk rock, pop, oldies and Broadway. The selections were varied and included the Limited Edition Show Choir Band, under the direction of David Vaughn, performing the opening pre-show entertainment superbly. Memories of Frank Sinatra, Karen Carpenter, The Starting Line, the best of Broadway and movie selections crossed the stage, along with specialty numbers new to the ears. The melodies played upon our minds and our hearts, as we watched the performances.

A lot of hard work and dedication brought together this talented group for an extremely successful evening. Thanks to the dedicated teachers and parents, this Cabaret Night was one we will always remember.

No Time to Stop

There was no better way to spend the 2003-2004 school year than by joining a club. Students were more involved than ever as they participated in club projects, outings and community service. Every club added their own twist to getting students involved. With so many different choices anyone could find a place they felt comfortable and be involved, expressing their school pride.

Pride put on their yearly dinner with a Middle Eastern theme mixing culture with scrumptious food. The event proved entertaining and filling. Meanwhile Art Club took on the project of painting the pillars in the upper 10-12 side with themes from different eras. Peace Core held two extremely productive blood drives as they got the whole school involved in a good cause. FBLA took a trip to Columbus to the State Leadership Conference and turned out more than one first place finishers in the meetings events. All the clubs had chances to participate in the Homecoming parade and Harvest for Hunger carnival, keeping school unity. Over the summer the American Cancer Society and Mayfield sponsored the Relay for Life event which helped raise funds for the fight against cancer.

Mayfield High School students strengthen their education outside the classroom by enhancing and enriching their lives with the many clubs Mayfield had to offer. This was time well spent.

Paws and Help

Student Council continued to be an organization of leadership that promoted school spirit and community involvement. Student Council members were put to work as soon as the year began. The members held an annual summer car wash to raise money necessary to fund the upcoming school events.

They kicked off the 2003-2004 school year with United Way Drive fundraiser. With the cooperation of the entire student body, Mayfield High School was able to present United Way with a check for $10,000. Student Council then moved their energies to the Homecoming weekend. The theme was City Nights. From parade preparation and organization to the late night decorating session in the wood gym, the weekend was certainly memorable. While the first quarter came to an end, the club prepared for the Adopt-a-Family project. Each class selected a needy family and helped them have a happy holiday season. The senior class showed leadership by raising approximately $1,200, while the junior's raised $800, the sophomores came up with $600, and the freshman received $500 in donations. After the holiday season passed, Student Council began with the Harvest for Hunger drive. This included the popular volleyball tournament. The tournament raised $250. The Harvest for Hunger carnival closed the weekend giving the community a chance to donate to the effort.

Student Council said goodbye to the adviser of Mr. Legan and the Student Council Officers, President Brighty Sullivan, Vice President Matthew Fadel, Treasurer Amy Rosengard and Secretary Julia Samorezov.

A Time for Generosity

ABOVE: After a week of loud whistles, the third place referees are all smiles.

ABOVE: The fourth place Mardi Gras girls were excited to be part of the United Way campaign.

It seemed as if Halloween had arrived a month early as the seniors dressed up to collect money for the annual United Way drive. It was a banner year for Mayfield students, who raised over $10,000, the most money collected in Cuyahoga county.

For one week, groups of seniors went around the school, asking for donations in an effort to help others. The students at Mayfield rose to the occasion, raising well over $10,000. Every group contributed and made this campaign a fun and exciting one. Groups came up with creative ways to raise money. The first place sports enthusiasts held several raffles.

When asked to describe how she felt about the campaign this year, Jess Revello, of the Greek Goddesses said, "It was a fun experience and I enjoyed raising money for a good cause."

As the winning group was announced and the winter sports enthusiasts, along with their snowboards, ran triumphantly through the gym, it was easy to see why Mrs. Czikray said, "The energy and enthusiasm of the kids this year was contagious." And it truly was. Who could possibly forget the celebrity twins hilarious antics or the snowboarders daily raffles? From Greek goddesses, to mullets, to refs, this year's United Way was extremely both successful and entertaining. We can only hope that the next generations of seniors can continue this wonderful event of giving.

Victory . . .

“Champions are not made in gyms, champions are made from something deep inside them: a desire, a dream, a vision. They have to have last minute stamina, they have to be a little faster, and they have to have the skill and the will. The will must be stronger than the skill.” When describing the Mayfield athlete, the words of Muhammad Ali rang true. Hard work. Dedication. Determination. These words were lived by on the fields and on the courts of Mayfield High School athletes.

The will to succeed was always present in both victories and defeats. With the fearless attitudes in the heart of the athletes, there was always room for improvement until victory was achieved. Intense practices and the vigorous work ethic allowed each athlete to set a personal goal and be triumphant. With Mayfield’s endless pride and spirit, the school’s name was constantly acknowledged in sectionals, district, regional and state competitions.

Before the start of the 2003 football season, many people around the school and community looked at the Wildcat's roster and doubted the team could top last season's three wins. This group proved that heart and dedication could carry a team. What the team lacked in size and strength, they made up for in tenacity and determination. The team was hungry and proud to prove their doubters wrong. They did exactly that.

The Wildcats opened their season at Byers Field with a vengeance against Valley Forge. A stellar defense and "Superstar" James English, led the way in a 10-6 win. The following week Willoughby South came to town claiming Mayfield did not know how to play power football. After the Wildcats pounded them in a defensive struggle, the Rebels left town singing a different tune. Next, the Cats beat Eastlake in a lopsided victory. The Cats shut down the Rangers four plays in a row from inside the five-yard line, which typified this team's resiliency. Over the next seven weeks, the Wildcats showed fans the benefits of teamwork. Assistant Coach Booth said, "This team was able to get everything they could out of their ability. It's very fulfilling to see your kids achieve the ways these guys did, and the seniors deserve most of the credit."

Team chemistry was the key ingredient in the Cats winning season. On and off the field the team was, in the words of Head Coach Pinto, "One big, happy family." The team found a renewed sense of togetherness, which was evident in the play of their defense, the offensive line, and the songs they sang on the way to the field. The Wildcats rushing attack ranked fourth in the area, and the defense allowed an average of only seven points in its six wins. Every player contributed to the team's impressive record of six wins and four losses.

The highlight of the season for the players and coaches was beating the rival Kenston Bombers. A week earlier, the Cats lost a heartbreaking triple overtime game at Solon, but the Wildcats bounced backed with their most impressive game of the season. This was a true revenge game for the seniors, who never beat Kenston before this homecoming game. Matt Siracusa rushed for more than 200 yards for the fifth time, part of a career record seven games over 200 rushing yards. After the fulfilling victory, the seniors met for the last time at the 50-yard line, on their home field, and remembered the great times they had over the last four years. All-WRC linebacker Matt Eakin said, "I truly loved my teammates. I don't think I will ever find a group that means as much to me as this one."

From the first training camp to the final snap, the Wildcats had a great ride. Over the course of the season, the team came together and showed what a team effort can accomplish. Over-achieving and tenacity defined these 2003 Mayfield Wildcats. The team will be remembered for its outstanding spirit and bringing Mayfield football back to its winning ways.

Net Work

The volleyball team of 2003 proved to be as good as advertised. While they were not as big as their opponents, they frustrated their rivals by succeeding with less height but more heart and determination. For example, the Lady Cats took the perennial state power, the Hudson Explorers down to the wire before Hudson barely escaped the Cats' claws. Although Hudson's girls were physically more intimidating and overpowering, they could not overshadow the passion and intensity of the Lady Cats.

One characteristic that makes this team unique was the relentless defense. Juniors Alicia Zavarella and Amanda Pierce led a strong defense that never stopped hustling. Back row specialists juniors Erica Roby, Julie Jagusch and sophomore Cara Colak consistently improved throughout the season as first year varsity players.

While the defense won games, their energetic offense excited the crowds. Team MVP senior Erin Stanek was a major threat to opposing teams every time she jumped, whether spiking or blocking. Stanek, along with senior Danielle Ferritto led the team in kills. But, none of this would have been possible without standout setter junior Melissa Hrusovsky. Hrusovsky had the great ability of making other players such as seniors Ashley Ferrara and Deanna Carlone offensive standouts.

In the Wildcats final home game, a strong defense allowed them to win the final two matches against Twinsburg in their most victorious game of the season. The Lady Cats defense allowed them to stay in the games and ignited the high-powered offense.

The Cats had a thrilling season that contributed to a lifetime of memories. In the words of assistant coach, Stacey Glavin, "This team showed what volleyball should be all about. They were a true team on and off the court. This team will always have a special place in my heart, especially the seniors."

The Men's Varsity Soccer team worked endlessly this season to overcome injury and illness and in the end prevailed with much more than just a winning record. Before the season began, senior captain Steve Kalan suffered from a stress fracture and only started playing again in the second to last game of the season. Senior captain Pete Dalpiaz, the starting goalie, injured his back and had to sit out for many of the non-conference games. However, Dalpiaz insisted on playing through the injury for the conference games. Although senior Matt Simonetta renewed Wildcat spirit with the promise to play goalie, he tore tendons in his ankle soon after joining the team. Amid a mass of injuries, seniors Gilson Saba and captain Vinnie Rosati stayed healthy and played as strong forces on The Pitch. Other injuries the team battled included hip flexor pains, dog bites, rolled ankles, concussions, and damaged ligaments. However, the lads stayed together and by the end of the season gelled to form a championship-winning team.

Perhaps the most underrated team in the state, Mayfield entered the post-season tournament with a record of 6-6-4. They began the tournament with a decisive victory over Lakeside and moved on to challenge Mentor, the first seed in the district and the team ranked 6th in the Plain Dealer. The boys overcame all the obstacles they had previously faced and ended Mentor's season with a 2-1 victory in overtime. Because of his award-winning goal that knocked the first seed out of the post-season tournament, Chris Lyons was awarded Plain Dealer player of the week. The boys continued in their tournament domination as they defeated Eastlake North to advance to the district championship against Cleveland Heights. The Cats sustained their winning streak by defeating Cleveland Heights 2-0, with goals from co-captains Billy Nisenbom and Anthony Rucci, to become the 2003 district champions for the second time in Mayfield history. The team then continued to the regional semifinals where they challenged Hudson, the winner of the Northeast District, and the team ranked 25th in the country. Although Hudson ended the team's successful season, the lads walked away with their heads held high. They won the district championship and proved all the critics wrong. The team showed true perseverance and gave credence to the statement that Mayfield truly was one of the most underrated teams in the state.

Joe Fernandez

The season came to a final close at the banquet, the last opportunity for all players and their families to get together before next season. Coach Mac announced the seasonal awards of best attacker, Anthony Rucci, best defender, Pete Dalpiaz, most improved, Chris Stepanek, and MVP Vince Rosati. In addition to the team recognition, several Mayfield players were honored with the WRC awards. Rosati earned first team WRC as well as second team All-Ohio, Dalpiaz and Saba each won second team WRC, and Rucci and Nisenbom were awarded honorable mentions.

One thing is certain... the Mayfield Men's soccer team was one of the most successful teams in the school, and the players were proud and honored to be named "one of the lads."

No Time to Paws

The Lady Wildcats winning record reflected their high team morale and cooperation which persevered throughout the season. They began with a great start, four wins and a tie, and continued to develop as the season progressed. Their conference record started out successfully with a defeat over archrival Brush. Later in the season, on a rainy, dark evening in September, the Wildcats greeted their biggest adversary, Solon, with finesse but unfortunately suffered their second loss.

Captains Kirsty McNamara, Christina Ippolito, and Bridget Gomillion encouraged the team to keep their heads up and they bounced back to end the season with the successful record of 10-5-2. Every player on the team greatly contributed to the Cats success. Sophomore goalie Julie Maskulka continually kept the team in the game with her remarkable saves. Senior Brighty Sullivan played solidly as a fullback, having stopped shots while successfully having made the team laugh off The Pitch. Senior Danielle Ruggieri scored eight goals with her head during the season. Senior Kristen Meden also contributed to the varsity team's impressive record with her speed and versatility on the pitch.

At the end of the season, Coach Peck announced the seasonal awards at the banquet. The MVP, voted by the team, was Kirsty McNamara. Most valuable attacker was Christina Ippolito, and the most valuable defender was Lauren Foley. Most improved was Valerie Korb.

The Lady Wildcats worked great together throughout the season. Coach Peck declared his satisfaction with the team's overall performance, "When the Wildcats took their vitamins, which were small slips of paper with inspirational quotes, they were a force with which to be reckoned. When motivated, we were a darn good soccer team. During halftime of almost every game, I was optimistic. Even if we were down, the girls took advantage of the second half and came out on top. It was a fun season, I truly enjoyed it."

Heading the team were seniors Jessica Chromanski, April Knotek, Alysse LaMarca and Amy Rosengard. Also contributing was junior Megan Welsh, sophomore Jenn Tkacz and freshman Molly Sullivan.

The girls faced a competitive schedule participating in four 18-hole tournaments. Their season ended with a 9-9 record, placing 4th out of 7 teams in the conference. Welsh was named first team W.R.C. and Knotek was named W.R.C. honorable mention. Never giving up, the girls stayed strong and played to the best of their ability.

The mens varsity golf team was what thousands of middle-aged men desired. They have full heads of hair, washboard stomachs and a mandatory nine holes of golf each day. While the Cats may not have won many of their close matches, they were still the envy of every golf addict.

The mens varsity golf coach, Mr. DiBernardo, summarized the 2003 season as one of rebuilding. Although the team was inexperienced, he saw plenty of potential in the players, and felt they enhanced their shot-making skills in all areas.

Although the team had their difficult times this year, senior captain Jon Miozzi and junior Allen Semethy both emerged as valuable players and displayed the leadership needed to insure the team's success. Strong play also came from seniors Nick Barille and Brad Bowen. Miozzi and Semethy were awarded second team WRC.

On very challenging courses, such as Stonewater, some memorable matches were played against Nordonia, Brush, Eastlake North and Euclid. The highlight of the team's year was its incredible 335 score against conference rival the Nordonia Knights. Semethy said, "In the tournament at Raccoon Hill we came together as a team and we had a fun time playing with each other."

The Wildcats came to play golf everyday. Despite their record, they could still brag about playing more golf than anyone in the neighborhood.

Where would Mayfield be without the spirit of our cheerleaders? From throwing footballs into the stands to exciting halftime routines, the Mayfield cheerleaders love to share their spirit. The girls prepared for football season by attending Americheer camp in summer. With new material and ideas they set off to cheer the football team in style.

The football cheerleaders were ready to begin the season especially after learning they had been mentioned in the News Herald. The season was filled with many exciting events. Pre-game dinners were a favorite of this year's squad. As the events of Homecoming unfolded the cheerleaders prepared for the big game by making signs and attending the homecoming parade and bonfire. The girls were faced with many challenges this season, from fixing flat tires to rushing to make the buses, the cheerleaders always came through.

As the seasons changed so did the cheerleading squads. With a few new members, the girls were ready to cheer on the basketball teams. Together the cheerleaders and players endured the long 20 game season. Although the season seemed to never end the cheerleaders continued to spread their enthusiasm. Senior cheerleader, Jackie Schmitt said, "This years basketball season was the highlight of my time cheerleading. I enjoyed supporting the team and hanging out with the girls!" The final game against Glenville brought relief to some and sadness to others.

This years cheerleaders will always be remembered as a spirited group, "I couldn't have asked for a better ending to my time here at Mayfield," said senior Lindsay Leppla. The girls enjoyed supporting the teams and getting the fans pumped up. After all, what's a Friday night football game without supportive cheerleaders and fans.

Between the Paths of Time

Hard work and determination defined the 2003 mens cross country season. Cross country was not a sport for the faint of heart, but a vigorous test of the mind, body and soul. Although official practices began in August, the hamiers trained all summer. Led by senior captains Dan Carlson, Matt Fadel, and Alex Yakubovich, the team averaged six to eight miles a day. This enabled every individual on the team to run under twenty-one minutes in a 3.1mile race. The team camaraderie through out the year was never broken.

With a strong core and outstanding times, it was very difficult to find a true top seven runners. The top five were mainly Carlson, Chris Lyons, Fadel, Tim Gasper, and either Jon Welle or Reza Mohammadpour. Runners who also worked their way into the rotation were Jimmy Deininger, Yakubovich, Joey Petrik and Nate Rapport. Other contributions came from Bill Markt, Mike Jankowski, Justin Meden, Brian Stephens, Colin Stinson, John Fadel and Joe Fernandez. The team was lead by Coach Steve Fernandez, whose experience and enthusiasm contributed greatly to the talent and confidence of the team.

Carlson and Lyons both extended their seasons another week by qualifying for regionals and were filled with excitement and pride. The MVP for the team was Carlson and the most improved runner was Gasper. The overall team record did not truly reflect the attitude and tenacity of the Mayfield Wildcat runners. This team had much to be proud of because each runner gave it all they had, putting their heart and soul into each run.

Practice started just as the summer mornings got hot. Under the shade of trees in the park, the girls' cross-country team spent their mornings running in preparation for their season. Their ambitions lay in winning their third straight conference championship. This goal proved to be a struggle, though, and they all had to work hard as a team. Practices were filled with lifting, sprints, and distance runs, each girl working hard to win the conference and hoping for iced tea after training. Setbacks early in the season brought their spirits down, as teammates got hurt and sick. Injuries sidelined Seniors Kammeron Hughes and Bridgette DeClemente. As the season started the girls lost their first duel meet to the Brush Arcs. After this they started to buckle down. Each girl had to work harder if they wanted that title.

The season progressed and they won each duel. The girls traveled to Allegany PA and Wadsworth for invitationals improving all the while. Each girl had something to add to the team, be it personality, determination or skill.

Coach Todt found he had a new top 7 runner in a freshman, Danielle Deininger. As the conference meet approached they girls grew excited, hoping to beat Brush. Jen Harpp won the race and the rest of the team followed rapidly behind. Anticipation grew as the scores were added up, and the team was tied with the Arcs in points, bringing the race down to the 6th runner. Senior Cherise Kent, beat their 6th runner, winning the conference for the team. Yet, the season wasn't quite over. Districts came, and the girls advanced to the regional meet as a team. Every girl ran her hardest, and some personal records were set as most of the girls in the top 7 ran their last race of the season. Harpp moved onto states where she came in 40th. An outstanding season had ended and the girls said good-bye to the seniors with hopeful wishes for 2004.

The phrase “cats are afraid of water” is a common misconception, and the Mayfield Aquacats were living proof that they were not afraid to get wet. Every meet brought new and exciting challenges, and the chance to prove that Mayfield swimming could overcome any obstacle. The swimmers came together as a team as they never had before, and as a result, were virtually unstoppable.

The mens team, led by Ari Markle, had a spectacular season with many amazing swims. The 200 relay team of Markle, Mike Milliken, Nick Primrose, and Sergey Sandler broke the free relay record. Sandler said, “We came together as a team this season to have some great races and win some big meets.” This is exactly what they did, winning six out of the eight dual meets and placing 5th overall in WRC. Markle had an impressive senior season, breaking the record in the 100 fly, and placing at states in the 100 back and 100 fly, as well as in the 200 free relay with his teammates. Major points were also scored by seniors Milliken, who broke the record in the 50 Free, and Primrose. Newcomers Joe Hollinshead, Chad Divincenzo, and Mikey Hirsch along with Sandler, Eric Rosengard, Mike Davis, Jeff Simonetta, and many others also helped to secure Mayfield’s victories. Senior Eric Rogan, who participated in both swimming and diving, earned many points for the team.

The Lady Aquacats, led by Jen Nemeth and Brighty Sullivan, also made their presence felt, giving Mayfield an amazing season. When asked how she felt about the season, Sullivan said, “I have many fond memories of the team, it was great being team captain and working with such great people.”

The ladies went up against many tough teams, but were able to hold their own and win six out of eight dual meets, placing 3rd overall in WRC. Kelly Woznicki, Kate Mastrangelo, Laura Kosmorsky and Nemeth broke the record for the 200 free relay. Other major points were scored by Katie Sbrocco, Jenna Micale, and Leah Tater along with Katie Kraska, Amy Vasinko, Sullivan, Sammy Friedman, Jen Jiannetti, and Molly Sullivan, all scoring crucial points. Amy Lin, Miranda Fash, and Shenwen Huang helped secure the Lady Aquacats victories. Whether it was working hard during winter break or having fun at the many pasta parties, the ladies all came together and had an unforgettable season.

The Aquacats took swimming at Mayfield to another level. All across the board times were dropped and new records were set. “No Resistance,” the phrase which was been the slogan for the season, not only spoke of the physical aspect of the sport, but also the mental and emotional. The swimmers and divers went into the meets expecting great things and as a result of hard work and determination, achieved them. They have continued to improve one stroke at a time.

A Slice in Time

The 2004 girls varsity tennis season had unparalleled success to any other. The extremely talented girls did their best and achieved every goal. Their exceptional skills and confident personalities allowed them to win their matches with grace. The team was made up of seven girls who were led by seniors Katie Whidden, Robin Gross and Masha Poretsky. Regarding the girls 15:4 season, Coach Kain stated, "They certainly far exceeded my expectations, which made it the second best girls varsity tennis season in Mayfield history." Included in their accomplishments were the girls victory over Shaker Heights for the first time in the regular season.

When on the court, tennis was life. The girls proved this philosophy at the Miami Invitational Tournament, when they took first place over all. The team also took third place in the WRC tournament as well as the WRC. Adding to their collection of victories, four players placed extremely well in sectionals. Some could say they were the Titans of the tennis courts.

The 2004 girls varsity tennis team had the ability and the determination to place in multiple tournaments making for a memorable season. The girls started the season off with a single bang but ended it like the 4th of July's magical display of fireworks.

Serving it up

Filled with fresh, new faces, the boys varsity tennis team started the year with high expectations. After the departure of three seniors, the team composed of underclassmen, was ready for the call of duty. With the leadership and example of senior, Joe Weider and a strong work ethic, the team finished with a record of seven wins and nine losses. All team members contributed and played above expectations, and all the matches were competitive. Freshmen Evan Whidden won first team WRC North, playing first singles and just barely missed qualifying for districts. Sophomore David Chan played second singles and won second team WRC. Freshmen Victor DiVita and Nathan Rapport competed at first doubles, and earned honorable mention in the WRC. Weider stated, "This year was awesome. Although I am disappointed to finish my tennis career at Mayfield, I am so happy to leave a program that is composed of the best young players in the WRC. Mayfield tennis will improve next year without a doubt."

The 2003-2004 Mayfield basketball team was an inspiration to the community. Although they struggled through a tough schedule, the team never stopped trying. Their perseverance taught the school another lesson in sportsmanship. The team lacked some of the physical qualities necessary to win, but heart and leadership helped the team maintain a positive attitude. Each day, the men could be seen tirelessly practicing which was evident by the faces full of sweat and smiles.

While their record may be deceiving, the boys basketball team had many highlights throughout the season. Their first win came against conference rival Kenston. The Wildcats played tough throughout, and the game came down to the unheralded senior, Nick "the Body" Barille. With no time on the clock Barille made a free throw, which started a "rowdy celebration" as the fans charged the court in jubilation. The next week, the underdog Wildcats traveled down the street to take on rival and WRC champion Brush. For three and a half quarters the Wildcats zone defense puzzled the high-flying Arcs. Although in the last four minutes the high-octane Brush offense caught the Wildcats, the Arcs were humbled by the tougher, resilient Wildcats. Adelphia Cable TV covered the game and the commenter noted that, "These young men sure played their hearts out. They earned my respect with their effort and toughness."

On a snowy Saturday evening in Chardon, the Cats again played a nail biting game that resulted in an overtime victory. This time the heroes were fan-favorite, Matt Simonetta and big man Mike Matz. Matz made the game winning three-point play to take a one-point lead. With ten seconds left the Wildcat defense stepped up for their biggest defensive stand of the year. Simonetta was all over the glass, including a key rebound in the last seconds of the game to seal the Mayfield victory. One week later, the Cats faced an energetic Twinsburg team that handled the Cats earlier, but that night, the Wildcats came to win. Smart play and superb defense helped spoil Twinsburg's chances at a WRC championship with Cats enjoying a 49-47 victory.

The ten senior leaders have played together since the seventh grade and shared some unforgettable memories. Even though the Cats fell short of their expectations, they learned important things about each other. The experience of Mayfield basketball will never be forgotten. Matz echoed the thoughts of WRC fans when he said, "Our record may not have shown we played well, but boy, we sure could dance."

Like the WNBA, they were better than you

The Lady Cats of 2003-04 had one goal coming into the season, no regrets. After a 16-6 season, they reached their goal. A steady diet of Danielle Ruggieri, Katie Whidden, Tricia Gomillion, Melissa Mann, Jenna Tomaro and the rest of the talented Lady Cats, the team thrilled fans with their highflying acrobatics and death defying hustle.

The season started out with a bang when the ladies defeated their biggest rivals, the Brush Arcs. In front of a full house, Ruggieri and Whidden led Mayfield in a dominating performance. The victory over Brush began an eight game winning streak including impressive victories over Twinsburg and Solon, some of the best teams in the state. The girls battled doubters and injuries to become one of the best basketball teams to walk the halls of Mayfield in a long time.

One remarkable characteristic of the girls was their toughness. Mann battled everything from a back injury to a brutal knee injury, while Gomillion fought ankle injuries to be a constant force in the paint. The team's toughness was most obvious in a decisive home victory over the Nordonia Knights. The girls played extremely physical in front of another huge crowd. The ladies beat Nordonia to a pulp, 73-45.

The Lady Cats played their most impressive game against the Stow Bulldogs. Tomaro had three crucial three-point field goals to rally the Cats. The favored Bulldogs, ranked fifth in the Cleveland area, were unprepared for the girls hard-nosed defense and excellent shooting. The team had tremendous help off the bench from future starters Christina Ippolito and Kristen Carver, who helped the Cats with solid play.

The Mayfield Lady Cats brought excitement to the basketball court and the school with their exciting wins and desire. The girls opened eyes and hearts as basketball fever swept the high school. The team became the sectional champs with a tough win over Collinwood. Their last hurrah was a heart breaking loss to one of the best teams in the state, Mentor. The girls left it all on the court as they did all season. While the game may have ended with a loss, the season ended just as the girls had hoped, with no regrets.

A Time for Winners

From the pre-season workouts, the Wildcats wrestling team was sure to have a successful season. Many of the wrestlers went to extra workout facilities to make sure they would be prepared for the high expectations. With returning state placers, Michael Ward and Nathan Spencer and many talented prospects, the Wildcats were confident there would be several Wildcat Wrestlers standing on the state podium in Columbus.

Starting off the year with the Wildcat duals, the team wrestled four meets and won all four, including a victory of highly ranked Wadsworth. Next, the team made their first trip to Columbus for the Midwest Classic. The champion that rose from the spotlight was Ward, along with N. Spencer, J. Spencer, and Nick Palmieri who all finished second. Brecksville was the next event on the wildcats schedule and they finished with a respectable 3rd place. The team was lead by the champions Jason Spencer and Nathan Spencer.

The team finished the season with an 11-1 record and victories over each of the WRC conference teams except Kenston. They also placed second in the WRC tournament and fourth at the Big Eight, leading them into a most prestige second place in the conference. Next on the agenda were the long awaited sectional, district, and state tournaments.

With a second in the sectionals tournament, Mayfield advanced all but two of their fourteen wrestlers. Districts were held at Massillon Perry and the Wildcats were able to send five on to the state tournament. The state qualifying Wrestlers were, Brett Thomas (112), J. Spencer (130), N. Spencer (135), Anthony Jiannetti (145), and Ward (171).

After a hard fight, the Mayfield Wildcats finished fifth in the state. Nathan Spencer became a three time state placer with a fourth place finish, Jason Spencer placed fifth, and Brett Thomas placed sixth. Winning the state championship at 171 was Ward. Mayfield High School had not seen a state champ since 1987. A great year ended with a superb finish. "We always measured our success by how well we finished, making the Top 10 for the 8th year in a row and producing our first state chap in 16 years helped us finish a successful season." stated head Coach Cikach.

Pushing the Limits

With most of its players returning from last season, and many incoming freshman to help reload, the Wildcat hockey team continued to be a serious contender in the Blue division. The intense practices that often ran late into the evening paid off as the team finished with yet another winning record.

The team showed up with one goal in mind at the holiday WRC tournament and after many tough and close games, they emerged victorious. In the championship game at Kent State University, Mayfield managed to shut out Kent Roosevelt 4-0 to seal the tournament championship. The Wildcats showed up for real again at the next holiday tournament where they competed with some of the best teams from Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania.

After the Cats hot start, things started to cool down due to the numerous injuries that plagued the roster. Although this was a problem, the Wildcats were able to get some impressive wins during the season, including beating rival Gilmour, Toledo St. Johns, Kent Roosevelt and Western Reserve Academy. Mayfield also placed second in the extremely competitive Blue Central division.

The hockey team is well known for its ability to draw many fans into such a small arena, with that being said they never let down their rowdy fans, always providing excellent action packed hockey. Every player on the team provided leadership, and encouragement for each other. The diehard fans can hardly wait until next season when the Cats hit the ice again.

A paws in the air

"Girls Gotta Flip" and that is exactly what the 2004 gymnastic team did. The season began with long hours of practice and conditioning. The girls set their stride early and kept the energy level strong.

Senior captain, Kammeron Hughes, and co-captain, Amanda Riccardi, led the team. The Lady Wildcat team consisted of seniors Lindsey Girod and Jessica Mills; juniors Jenna Mastrobuono, Karena Lin, Kacey Zeiser, and Absera Melaku; sophomores Carri Engbert, Christina Polizzi, Lisa Stark, Melissa Carlone, and Lindsey Fixler and freshman Allison Opalich, Cindy Hinkle, and Christyna Genovese. The 2004 team encountered many difficult teams during the season. Teams such as Hudson, Magnificat, Solon, Twinsburg, and West Geauga presented challenges to the girls. The team was young and had a great deal of potential and talent that will be necessary to lead next year's team to victory. The 2004 gymnastics team was coached by Miss Cefaratti, and assisted by Mrs. Escano. This was Miss Cefaratti's first season as head coach, and Mrs. Escano's first season as assistant coach.

The team had a high score of 110.75, and many individual goals were also set. High scorers for the season were Hughes on vault, bars, beam, and floor, Riccardi on the floor exercise, Mastrobuono on the floor exercise, Zeiser on the beam, Melaku on the floor exercise, Stark on the uneven bars, Carlone on the floor exercise and the uneven bars and Opalich on the vault, bars, beam, and floor.

The team was brought together with the help of the coaches Cefaratti and Escano, and captain Hughes. Hughes had the ability to bring out the spirit and strength in all of the gymnasts. She brought support, respect, bonding, pep, and team unity to each of the gymnasts. Each gymnast looked up to Hughes and felt her support and positive attitude. As a team, they strived for team and individual goals. Each gymnast strived to be successful and unite the team to victory. MHS gymnasts became one as a team and were confident in the path they led. Each gymnast brought forth their best and shined ...GGF!

A Timeless Classic

After a very strong push at the end of the season, the 2004 Mayfield Wildcat baseball team proved once again that they were not a team to be taken lightly. In a span where they won 7 of 10 games, the Cats put themselves back on the radar screen for the Western Reserve Conference race and displayed a balanced team to be reckoned with. The Wildcats displayed a potent offense and a deep pitching staff with a good mixture of upper and underclassmen during the year. Although it took a while for the team to develop the chemistry they demonstrated at the end of the year, they showed a promising future.

Leading the offensive attack was senior The Plain Dealer and The News Herald Player of the Week Matt Simonetta and junior Mike Stallano who was also named Player of the Week. Seniors Lee Harris and Nick Barille anchored a strong middle of the order while underclassmen David DiVita and Mike Dodson added some much needed punch to the lineup.

Mayfield showed off an impressive pitching staff during the season by proving they were one of the best in the conference. Aces DiVita and senior Mike Manzo pitched just as expected... with authority. Senior Mike Howe and junior Nick Satullo threw consistently as well as anyone in the area. A strong glimmer of hope was exhibited as a total of 4 sophomores pitched for the Cats during the year.

Mayfield was well represented when the time came for the All-WRC teams to be voted on. There were 3 players selected to the 1st team in Simonetta, Stallano, and DiVita. Harris and Dodson were deemed Honorable Mention.

The team understood and took pride in the fact that after a slow start they didn't cave in or give up and the result was that the Wildcats made a valiant effort to assemble a respectable season. Satullo summed it all up, "At first we were not all on the same page, but toward the end we began to come together as a team and our second-half record proved it."

Growing Pains

The 2004 fast pitch team was faced with many challenges for the upcoming season; with five vacant spots to be filled by players who had graduated, the team had to regroup and restructure the line up. Providing strong leadership and spirit were seniors Melissa Mann, Kristi Tritt, April Knotek, and Lisa Kramer. The pre-season brought discussion about the team's goals and strategies. Workouts began in February and intensified as the season grew closer. With high hopes for a successful year the ladies were not exactly pleased in the end result. Their final record did not truly reflect the talent and potential the girls possess inside.

Although the season didn't uphold all of their expectations, the team unity kept the girls close and enabled the team to have a fun season regardless of their record. One of the biggest victories of the season was against the Solon Comets. The team rallied together and pull a huge upset by defeating this highly ranked team in the conference. The loss suffered at the hands of the Lady Cats completely kicked them out of the race to be conference champions. No one could have said it better then Mann, "No matter what happens, we always tried our best and had a good time!" And that was the motto throughout the entire season.

The season for the underclassmen was one of learning. With each challenge the younger members of the team became more knowledgeable. With a young team, the Lady Cats are destined to grow.

An Athletic Showcase

Some sports experts consider track less of a sport and more of an athletic showcase. If that's the case, the men of the 2004 Mayfield Track team definitely put on an entertaining show. The season was filled with goals reached and pleasant surprises from some unexpected athletes.

The season was successful from the start with an overwhelming victory against Eastlake North and two weeks later against Nordon. That Cats had impressive first place finishes throughout the season from the iron triangle of Mike DeJohn in the discus and shot-put, Jon Welle in the 800, the 4x800 and the 4x400, and James English in the 110 meter hurdles, the 4x400, the 300m hurdles, and the 4x200. The team also received help from some surprising newcomers like senior sprinters Avery Jones, Steve Kalan, and Junior Mike Barnes. Senior two-milers Dan Carlson and Matt Fadel made up an impressive one-two punch that exemplified the Wildcats ability to outrun and outlast opponents.

The Wildcats continued through the Season with victories over Kenston and an upset over Twinsburg to finish conference meets. When Kenston came to Mayfield, James English was able to take first place in four events and break the 20 year old record in the 300 hurdles. DeJohn also won the discus to remain undefeated in conference meets.

Assistant Coach Jim Mormino spoke highly of the Cats season. "Each day these guys came to work and have a good time. It's rare to find a group of kids with so much talent and sportsmanship." The Cats were sure to congratulate all the participants at the finish line of a job well done.

The season had a plethora of memories and highlights. One of the most exciting was James English breaking coach Frank Stupczy's record in the 110 hurdles at the first annual Lee Johns Invitational at Mayfield High School. Another highlight was the continued dominance of Mayfield's weight man relay. The combination of Mike and Jim Verdi, Soren Engbert, and anchor Mike DeJohn showed off their deadly combination of speed and size by finishing the season undefeated in fat man relays. Also, at the Berea Relays, James and beloved younger brother Stefan English along with Mike Ballistrea and Ryan Goldberg nearly set the record in the shuttle hurdles record.

The Wildcats finished the season with new records and some new hardware. The men set personal records, overcame injuries and looked great in short shorts.

Faster than Time

"The muscle pulls hurt. The side stitches hurt. The shin splints hurt; and sometimes you wanted to give up. Then you realized that congratulating the winner would hurt the most." This quote was the motivation for the girls track team. From the distance runners, to sprinters, to throwers, to jumpers, to hurdlers, to vaulters this quote was beating in each girls heart, dripping in each girls sweat, and escaping through each girls stride. The girls track team worked hard this season and placed third in the conference. Even though the team picture won't be hanging on Mayfield's wall of fame, the team's accomplishments will remain in the minds and hearts of the many spectators and coaches whose eyes watched each stride on the track this spring, and the many records will be posted on the record board.

The 4 x 100 team ran a 51.5 at Mentor and their names will be placed on the record board and will remain there until Mayfield finds four more girls faster then Karena Lin, Kris Meden, Courtney Smith, and Tashunna Booker which could take a long time! Another record was broken by the 4 x 200 team of Danielle Deininger, Christina Ippolito, Booker, and Meden who ran a time of 1:48.8 at Brush. Ippolito flew over the 300 hurdles fast enough to beat the record with a time 45.63 at the WRC meet at Brush. The shuttle hurdle team made a stunning appearance by running a time of 1:03.6 at the Wildcat Invitational. This team consisted of Ippolito, Kristin Carver, Lin, and Smith. It's a bird, it's a plane, no, it's Ippolito soaring through the air and over the bar at 10'1 at Gilmour as the fifth and final Mayfield record was broken.

The track rookies had an outstanding season and definitely contributed to the track team. Lauren Foley and Deininger ran hard along with many others who were running varsity track for the first time. Their times decreased as the season went on as their willingness to work hard increased. The captains led the team and acted as role models to the other members of the team. Cherise Kent, Ippolito, Smith and Brighty Sullivan always put others concerns first and taught the team what running hard really meant.

The track season was one of broken records, running hard, and having fun. The seniors will be missed, and the team hopes they will visit because Coach Todt needs someone to keep him straight.

Many thanks

The yearbook staff would like to thank all the wonderful businesses that supported the 2004 Mayfielder. Because of the generous contributions, we were able to raise over $10,000 to help offset the publication costs of the yearbook.

We appreciate the support of our local businesses and we hope that you will continue to patronize these businesses.

PAWS AND POSSIBILITIES

Dear fellow students,
The 2003-2004 school year passed us quickly as the students participated in all the constant excitement. With so many sporting events, dances and meetings, we barely had the chance to pause and take in our passing year. So much was happening all at once, and there was always a test right around the corner. By the end of the year, everyone was left wondering where all the time went.

The senior class made itself unique with each individual person. Every one of you added to this class with your special personality. We have created some remarkable memories, and have the power to create some amazing futures too. The possibilities really are endless. Enjoy what is to come, but remember the past too, your Wildcat roots. As time passes us by, I hope you can all look back to this yearbook and recall the good memories documented in our own little pause in time.

Sincerely,
Kris Meden
Editor-in-Chief

Memory is a way of holding onto the things you love, the things you are, the things you never want to lose.

Colophon

The 73rd volume of the 2004 Mayfielder was printed by Herff Jones Publishing Company located in Shawnee Mission, Kansas. The theme for this yearbook was "A Paws in Time" Our sales representative was Jim Barbour and our plant representative was Julie Bogart.

J.J. Regal Portrait Design in Highland Heights took the senior potraits as well as several candid photos. Ohio School Pictures in Berea photographed all underclassmen, club groups, sport teams and some school candid.

The book is a 9x12 format and is printed on 80# velvet enamel gloss with a press run of 610 copies. Each book was Smyth sewn and rounded and backed. The body copy was Garamond, 11 point. The headline font was AHJ Schnittger, with varying sizes. There are 49 color pages in this edition. Adobe PageMaker version 7.0 was used in creating the yearbook.

The purchase price for the 2004 Mayfielder was $48 early bird and $55 regular price.
